

Charging Circular – BSUoS Half Hourly Forecast & Daily Costs

3rd December 2018

Dear BSUoS customer,

This circular is to inform you of two new reports relating to BSUoS costs that we have recently started publishing on our website.

1. Half Hourly BSUoS forecast

We started publishing our half hourly BSUoS forecast on the ESO website on the 30th of November. The forecast will be uploaded by close of play each day and provide half hourly cost, volume and BSUoS charge for D+2. This is so that a D+1 forecast is available from the beginning of each day. The forecast published on Friday will cover Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

This report can be found at the following link. <https://www.nationalgrideso.com/balancing-data/forecast-volumes-and-costs>

2. Daily Balancing Costs 2018/19

On the 28th November, we started publishing our daily balancing costs broken down to a more granular level. The file will be refreshed by Thursday each week with the latest outturn costs. The file also includes a daily forecast of balancing costs to the end of 19/20. Note that we don't forecast every service category separately.

This report can be found at the following link. <https://www.nationalgrideso.com/balancing-data/system-balancing-reports>

If you have any questions or comments regarding either of the above two reports, please get in touch with a member of the team using the contact details below.
