TNUoS Tariff Forecast Timetable for 2020/21 Tariffs

Dear Industry Colleagues,

This letter concerns the timetable for our forecasts of 2020/21 electricity Transmission Network Use of System (TNUoS) tariffs over the coming year. We have reviewed our quarterly forecast publication dates; based on customer feedback and the dates we receive key data (which can have a material impact on tariffs).

We note the ongoing CUSC modifications CMP286 and CMP287. If approved, they may change the dates on which data that impacts on tariffs should be fixed in future years. We welcome further views on preferred dates for our forecasts so that we can look at what changes could be made to the Regulatory Framework which might be needed to facilitate a change to our timetable.

For 2020/21 tariffs, we have recently provided our latest view in our September Five-Year View, and the next update will be by the end of March 2019.

Following the additional Five-Year View of tariffs in November 2017 to support the significant amount of methodology changes, we moved our next publication of the Five-Year View in 2018 to September. We are now proposing returning the Five-Year View closer to its usual time, annually at the start of the forecasting cycle. This means our next Five-Year View will be in March 2019, and we expect it to be published annually from then.

The resulting timetable for tariff forecasts to be published this year (for 2020/21 tariffs) is set out below. We may vary these dates if unforeseen circumstances require us to, but we will still provide at least three forecasts before the Final tariffs are published in January 2020.

By end of March 2019	Quarterly Forecast of 2020/21 TNUoS tariffs Five Year view of 2021/22 to 2024/25 TNUoS tariffs
By end of July 2019	Quarterly Forecast of 2020/21 TNUoS tariffs
By end of November 2019	Draft 2020/21 TNUoS tariffs
31 January 2020	Final 2020/21 TNUoS tariffs

All forecasts will be published on the TNUoS tariffs forecast section of our website: www.nationalgrideso.com/tnuos
