Key areas of discussion

- GC0109 seeks to publish on BMRS any System Warning Alerts that are not currently shared with market participants.
- The Workgroup considered the 5 responses received as part of the Workgroup Consultation that was run from 25 November 2020 to 16 December 2020. The majority of the respondents supported the change and the proposed implementation. However the ESO Workgroup Member:
 - Argued for the removal of 3 System Warning Alerts from the scope of GC0109;
 - Proposed implementation to be 30 (rather than 10) working days after Authority decision; and
 - Proposed that no need to specify Balancing Mechanism Reporting Service (BMRS) in the legal text.
- The Proposer agreed to the ESO Workgroup Member's suggestions apart from the proposal to not specify BMRS in the legal text. Therefore, the ESO Workgroup Member proposed a request for alternative, which is as per the GC0109 Original apart from removing the specificity to BMRS in the legal text. This became WACM1.
- At the Workgroup Vote on 5 February 2021, the Workgroup concluded unanimously that both the GC0109 Original and WAGCM1 better facilitated the Grid Code Objectives than the Baseline (the current Grid Code).
