TNUoS Tariff Forecast Timetable for 2023/24 Tariffs Update

Dear Industry Colleagues,

This letter concerns the timetable for our forecasts of 2023/24 electricity Transmission Network Use of System (TNUoS) tariffs over the coming year. We have reviewed the timetable and following some technical setbacks and team illness we have made the decision to postpone the publication of the 'Five Year View of 2023/24 to 2027/28 TNUoS tariffs and initial view of 2022/23 TNUoS tariffs' by one week to allow us to provide the quality data that is expected of us.

Our revised timetable for 2023/24 tariff forecasts publications is set out below.

By 7 th April 2022	Five Year view of 2023/24 to 2027/28 TNUoS tariffs (including the initial forecast of 2023/24 TNUoS tariffs)
By end of August 2022	Updated forecast of 2023/24 TNUoS tariffs
By end of November 2022	Draft 2023/24 TNUoS tariffs
31 January 2023	Final 2023/24 TNUoS tariffs

These dates may vary if unforeseen circumstances require but we will still aim to provide at least three forecasts before the Final tariffs are published in January 2023.

Please note that leave has been granted for a judicial review of the Competition and Markets Authority (CMA) decision, on the appeal to the CMA of the Ofgem's 2020 CMP317/327 decision, and the proceedings are underway. We may review this forecast timetable once the outcome of the judicial review has been published, depending on its impact. All forecasts will be published on the TNUoS tariffs forecast section of our website: www.nationalgrideso.com/tnuos

We will continue to engage with you on the analysis that we can provide in our forecasts, in addition to any changes to this timetable (if any are required), via the Transmission Charging Methodology Forum (TCMF). The next TCMF meeting is on 7th April 2022.

If you have any queries, please contact us at TNUoS.Queries@nationalgrideso.com.

Yours faithfully
