AOB

Helen Stack – Asked a question on recoupling with the EU. NGESO stated there is no information to share at this time but will update JESG when there is.

Josh Logan – Raised a recently published open letter from ACER with regards to remit data.

The letter can be read here: <https://documents.acer-remit.eu/wp-content/uploads/Updated-Open-Letter-on-extension-of-possibility.pdf>

Ofgem have provided this response:

There have been no changes in the GB framework for IIPs since the end of Transition Period – which can be found here. On IIPs, it says:

“Ofgem strongly encourages the use of appropriate Inside Information Platforms (IIPs) for the effective publication of inside information relating to the GB wholesale energy market. We currently consider these to be the Balancing Mechanism Reporting Service (BMRS) operated by Elexon for electricity, and National Grid’s GB REMIT Central Collection and Publication Service for gas.

MPs considering using other IIPs for the publication of inside information relating to the GB wholesale energy market should consider whether those platforms will ensure that the inside information is as widely received by other relevant MPs operating in the GB market as that provided by the BMRS or the service operated by National Grid.”

Ofgem also confirmed that for any exceptional reason, BMRS or National Grid’s gas platform are temporarily unavailable, the next best alternative should be used, until these platforms resume
